ABOUT THE WORKSHOPS

Our Learning and Sharing interactive workshops offer an opportunity for young people and youth workers to get involved with the Positive Sexual Health campaign. Young people have decided that this campaign should be about more information, learning and debate on consent, safety and well-being. Learning and Sharing days are a chance for everyone to join this discussion, have their voice heard and learn more. The Positive Sexual Health Campaign is being led by a group of young people calling themselves the Sex Talk Team. The events will be led and shaped by this group, providing a youth led and youth-focused day.

For young people...

The events will offer young people an opportunity to be part of a youth movement to change how we talk, teach and learn about sexual health in Ireland.

By attending this event you will:

- Learn more about consent and how to stay safe.
- Have your voice heard on how sex education should be taught in Ireland.
- Educate decision makers on the needs of young people in relation to sex education and health.
- Be part of a campaign to change how we talk about sex.

For youth workers and volunteers...

The events will offer youth workers an opportunity to feed into the development of a new European wide education pack on sexual health and develop your professional skills around sexual health.

By attending this event you will:

- Help to develop a new European programme on sexual health.
- Help young people understand 'yes' and 'no' in relation to consent.
- Develop your professional knowledge and skills around sexual health with a focus on consent, wellbeing and safety.
- Respond to young people's needs around sexual health.

The workshops take place from 11am - 3:30pm.

They are free to attend with lunch provided, however places are limited and available on a first come first served basis. Book now at:
